

Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture

2014 AWARDS PRESS RELEASE

ACSA is pleased to announce the 2013-2014 Architectural Education Award Winners. Each year, ACSA honors architectural educators for exemplary work in areas such as building design, community collaborations, scholarship, and service. The award-winning professors inspire and challenge students, contribute to the profession’s knowledge base, and extend their work beyond the borders of academy into practice and the public sector. CONGRATULATIONS to all the award winners!

Click on the images and links below to view each submission and be sure to join the winners in Miami Beach at the ACSA 102nd Annual Meeting (<http://www.acsa-arch.org/programs-events/conferences/annual-meeting/102nd-annual-meeting>) where they will receive their awards.

The AIA/ACSA Topaz Medallion for Excellence in Architectural Education is awarded jointly by the American Institute of Architects (AIA) and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture (ACSA) to an individual, who must be living at the time of nomination, who has spent at least a decade primarily involved in architectural education, and whose primary contribution to architectural education has been on the North American continent.
